3 1/2" Vertical Stile | Terrace Swing Door | In-Swing & Out-Swing

A heavy duty terrace door designed with both performance and quality at the forefront, meet the 2300i series. The door and frame are each thermally broken with a polyamide strut separating interior and exterior aluminum to maximize thermal performance. Due to the nature of the thermal strut, a dual finish can be provided if desired.

Glazing is structurally set at the factory for added quality control and a weather tight seal. The door is constructed for durability by hydraulically crimping each of the four corners, with the frame being mechanically fastened together at each corner.

Standard hardware includes multi-point locking, improving security and providing a tight seal from outside elements. Precision machined 3-way adjustable butt hinges allow for multi-directional adjustment with FRP bushings and stainless steel pins.

The 2300i series terrace door is perfect for high-rise apartments, condominiums, and hotels, as they are able to withstand higher wind loads and heavy foot traffic for these environments..
